Mandatory Minimum Sentencing for Non-violent Drug Crimes?....Not in my Canada! February 2009 saw the Federal Conservative government reintroduced legislation to punish "serious drug crimes" with mandatory minimum sentences. These crimes include growing 5 marijuana plants. Six months later, the bill has passed quickly through parliament and it's first reading in Senate, with little notice from the public. Bill C15 will take the responsibility of weighing a crime's impacts on society against it's punishment from the wise hands of our judges and put it into the hands of the politicians.

This is a very destructive piece of legislation, it's going to criminalize ordinary folk and ruin lives at the expense of the tax-payer

- Dr. Keith Martin, MP Esquimalt-Juan de Fuca, on previous version Bill C26

The United States has 5% of the world's population and 25% of the world's prisoners. Many of [them] are serving time for non-violent drug first offenses.

- whyprohibition.ca

"The people who drew up these sentences never sat in court and never had to look a defendant in the eye while imposing some of these sentences."

- American Judges Association, 1999

In 2005, 42.6% of drug arrest in the United States were for Marijuana offenses.

- FBI Unified Crime Report 2005

In 2002 the Canadian Senate's Special Committee on Illegal Drugs recommended that cannabis should be legalized, taxed and regulated.
